Established in 1975, SFUHS was founded on a vision of educating while challenging each individual to live a life of integrity, inquiry, and purpose larger than the self.

UHS

SAN FRANCISCO
UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL

Synertel has served SFUHS since 1992, first maintaining an ancient telephone system, then designing and installing two generations of campus-wide telephony over 17 years.

SFUHS purchased its future South Campus in 2005. This building, destined to become the painting, ceramics, film, language, and digital media center, was 3 blocks distant from the rest of campus – yet it would have the highest network connectivity requirements of any departments.

Synertel designed & installed a secure, encrypted wireless Gigabit (wire-speed) network link to connect South Campus with the rest of the school, while at the same time deploying IP telephony to make South Campus an integral part of the main campus telephone system.

When the Julia-Morgan designed main (upper) campus building required seismic upgrading, Synertel provided a seamless solution to allow the entire administrative and admissions staff to operate from a distance remote office for 10 months – with no changes apparent to outsiders. Phones, faxes, email and network connectivity worked just as before – even though the staff were now 3 miles away in temporary quarters. Synertel's voice and data architecture provided built-in flexibility, allowing unexpected situations to be handled affordably with grace and ease.
